"We use Sala S.r.l.'s machines to manufacture brass balls for valves.

We truly appreciate Sala's competency and experience, since it has been on the market for many years.

We have collaborated with other companies in the past, but their machines featured many limits that Sala's machines don't have.

Sala's machines are more compact compared to traditional systems.

We have been partners for more than 22 years, achieving excellent production levels, reduced machine encumbrance, excellent performance, and a wider range of models.

And the balance between performance, quality, and versatility is great."
